Communication skills exercise: Practice welcoming new recruits

questions (examples below) and listen carefully to learn how to best get them engaged. Then introduce them to a volunteer who has similar interests who might guide them into a project.

“Welcome. My name is ___ and I’ve been volunteering with CCL for __ years. Thank you for being here! Do you mind if I ask you a few questions about your background?”

(Menu of open-ended questions. Ask a few or think of your own)

- ○ What did you think of today’s meeting?
- ○ Tell me about yourself and things you’re good at.
- ○ What about CCL sounds especially interesting to you?
- ○ If you don’t mind, tell me about community activities you’ve done that you found really fulfilling.
- ○ What questions do you have for me — maybe about CCL, our chapter, or anything we’ve discussed?

“Thank you! What you shared reminded me why I love CCL. Here at our CCL gathering, Megan has interests similar to yours so I’m going to introduce you two. I think you’ll enjoy getting to know each other. Give me a call if you’re looking for more information or if you need another introduction.”
